About International Women's Day

Historically, International Women's Day has focused on the working conditions of women. Women and people of color experience workplace injury, sexual harassment, unequal pay, and other forms of injustice at higher rates.

Nevertheless, women workers persist. They lead the charge in fighting for safe working conditions, equality, and economic justice.

For International Women's Day 2017, we're asking you to #BeBoldForChange. Call on the masses or call on yourself to help forge a better world.

#ShePersisted

For the march, we are wearing red and making signs to honor women workers with the slogan "She Persisted."

We welcome you to make your own signs, honoring the strong and persistent women in your life. If you would like us to help you make a sign, send a photo of a woman you would like to honor to aikeahawaii@gmail.com.
